YOUTH FATALLY BURNED FRIDAY IN TRUCK CRASH

An 18-year-old South Mountain boy lost his life and two men were seriously burned Friday afternoon following a spectacular accident and fire which destroyed a truck tractor on the Lansboro-Old Forge Rd. two miles east of Waynesboro.

Eugene Wagaman, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Wagaman, Fayetteville R. 2, died of burns of the entire body before firemen could rescue him.

2 Listed 'Serious'

Melvin Lee Gunnels, 23, of Boaz, Ala., driver of the truck, and Cpl. Paul L. Thomas, Chairmain, were taken to Waynesboro Hospital suffering burns over approximately 35 per cent of their bodies. They were listed in serious condition.

State Police said Gunnels lost control on a left curve, and the tractor hit a telephone pole, snapping it off at the base. The vehicle traveled 1,200 feet and struck guard rails, then overturned and caught fire.

Inquest Planned

A wide area of brush and trees along the highway caught fire from gasoline from the truck's tank. Waynesboro firemen responded and put the fire out. The truck tractor, owned by the Colonial Refrigerated Transport Inc., Birmingham, Ala., was destroyed.

Franklin County Coroner J. D. Goshen, is scheduling an inquest but the date has not been set, pending an outcome of injuries to Gunnels and Thomas. The jury selected to serve at the inquest includes G. H. Erwin, Richard Etter, John T. Bohn, Edgar Morganthall, Harry C. Funk, and William B. Curry.

COUPLE IS GIVEN $4,750 DAMAGES

Weldon B. and Pauline B. Shank, Fairfield R. 1, have been awarded $4,750 for damage to their property in Liberty Twp. caused by the relocation of the Sunshine Trail in 1954.

The couple had appealed to the Adams County court in February when they were unable to agree with the state Department of Highways on the amount of damages they should receive for losing 2.8 acres of their property, plus ornamental and other trees, 2,900 feet of fencing, etc.

A board of view comprising Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, LeRoy H. Winebrenner and Roy D. Renner, after hearing the matter, set $4,750 as the amount of the award. With no objections filed by the state within 30 days, the settlement for that amount became final this week.

Estimates of the amount of damage given at the hearing before the board ranged from $2,662.50 to $8,000.

Attorney Donald G. Oyler, who represented the Shanks in their appeal for a larger settlement, said the state's offer had been $2,700.

School Directors Plan Sunday Tour

Members of the Gettysburg Joint School Board will gather Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Gettysburg High School to go to York County for an inspection tour of a number of new grade school buildings recently erected there.

The trip Sunday is preliminary to a number of decisions the board must make about construction materials and details of building plans for the new 20-room school. The board saw preliminary drawings on the new building at a special meeting Monday evening.

Gettysburg, a small but very historic community and probably the smallest community known throughout th world, is accustomed to playing host to notables from many lands.

Lincoln made it famous 94 years ago when he delivered his immortal Gettysburg Address. General Meade, a few months earlier, had initiated the swing to fame with his sensational defeat of General Lee and his Confederate forces that broke the heart of the Confederate cause of secession.

Since that time many famous people and heads of Government have come to Gettysburg. The goal for Adams County is $1,000.

LIBRARIANS ARE QUIZZED ABOUT MANY TOPICS

History, nutrition, agriculture, music, politics and science are only a few of the fields in which the staff at the Adams County Free Library are expected to be experts — or know where to consult experts quickly — by the hundreds of persons who call on them frequently for answers to all sorts of questions.

Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, the librarian, and her staff keep count of these "reference questions," as they call them, and include the monthly total in their regular reports to the board of directors. They average from 15 to 35 or more a month.

Library users turn to the library staff by mail, telephone or on calls to the library to find out how to tan leather, what game is protected by the state, what is the meaning of "e pluribus unum" and how to write a formal acceptance for a wedding invitation.

Answer Most Of Them

One fellow called up to know who invented the first rubber golf ball and another wanted to know: "What is the Communist Manifesto?" Someone else wanted to know if the American Indian votes and there was query to learn what state was the last to permit divorce.

The librarians find the answers to most of the questions, tough and easy ones alike, but they're still looking for the words to the song, "MacNamara's Band." They've had trouble, too, answering a question about the Kline aptitude tests and another for a chap who wants to know if farm mechanization increases or decreases the yield per acre.

They received eight weeks of basic combat training to be followed by advanced individual and unit training.

Staley is a 1953 graduate of Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, and a former employe of M. A. Hartley and Company.

Shindledecker graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1955.

REPORTS PROWLER

Mrs. Clarence Wright, Chambersburg St., reported to borough police Friday morning at 11:30 o'clock that someone had been prowling around her windows and around the "other apartments from after dark until 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning."

NEW BUILDING IN GETTYSBURG UNDER '56 MARK

Construction of new buildings in Gettysburg during the first seven months of 1957 shows a marked decline under the comparable period a year ago, according to the building permits issued by Burgess William G. Weaver.

From January through July this year Burgess Weaver issued 66 building permits for construction valued at $255,588.

From January through July, 1956, Weaver issued 76 permits for construction valued at $722,220.

Fewer New Homes

While last year's total was augmented by such large items as the $100,000 Howard Johnson Restaurant construction and the approximately $96,000 worth of alterations to The First National Bank, the most notable feature of the building permits issued so far this year has been the decrease in the amount of new home construction compared to the same period a year ago.

So far this year, permits have been granted for the construction of ten new homes in Gettysburg at a cost of $135,400. Last year during the first seven months permits were issued for 24 new homes to cost $310,250, plus a permit for a six-unit dwelling.

The permits also indicate that the cost of home construction is increasing. In 1954 the average home built in Gettysburg cost $12,175 according to the permits. In 1955 the average was $12,161. In 1956 the average for the 33 homes for which permits were granted through the year was $12,115. For the ten homes for which permits have been granted so far this year the average is $13,540.

Peak In April

Most of the permits issued this year have been for repairs and renovations—new porches, screening in of porches and additions to present structures. Three of the permits pertain to shelters for milk dispensing machines. One permit is for scaffolding to repair a roof.

The permits also show that the total figures listed for the construction during the first seven months is low. The figure used in the total for the permit granted the Tidewater Oil Co. for its new service station at Steinwehr Ave. and S. Washington St., now in process of construction, is $12,500. The permit states the cost as "over $12,500."

The number of permits and amount of estimated cost for the construction per month follow: January, four, $1,075; February, nine, $48,100; March, six, $59,150; April, 11, $54,300; May, 11, $37,715; June, 16, $35,898; July nine, $19,320.

Utah Convicts Hold 14 Women As Hostages In Prison Flareup

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP) — Fourteen frightened women were held hostage for one hour last night by a group of 15 prison inmates who seized control of the auditorium at the Utah State Prison.

But all the women, members of a novelty orchestra group known as the Kitchen Rhythmettes from Price, Utah, were released unharmed.

The girls had been assured protection by other prisoners who did not take part in the flareup which briefly held taut this compound 30 miles south of Salt Lake City. On Feb. 6 all 500 inmates rioted and took control for 12 hours.

Last night's outbreak was short. It was preceded by a scuffle in the corridor near the auditorium when one guard was accosted by some prisoners. But he was rescued by another guard and the prisoners went to the auditorium for a special show.

At the end of the show, featuring the Rhythmettes, about 7:10 p.m., the agitators jumped on stage, grabbed three prison personnel and took control of the auditorium.

A boy friend of one of the women and a husband of another were also with the group.

When the prisoners took over, another group armed itself with baseball bats obtained from the nearby recreation office. Deputy Warden John W. Turner said some tried to lock the main corridor to keep guards out but were unsuccessful.

Turner said he and about 15 other armed officers then entered the corridor, ordered all inmates back to their cells and advanced to the auditorium There were 15 prisoners and the hostages inside, he said. He ordered the door opened and hostages released. They were.

Jim Dan Hill, New Columnist For Times, Is Author, Educator And Decorated Vet Of Two Wars

Jim Dan Hill, educator, author and decorated veteran of both World Wars, is the writer of the weekly column, "Let's Look at the Record," which begins regular appearances in The Gettysburg Times today on page 4.

The 60-year-old president of the Wisconsin State College at Superior, Wis., is a native of Leon County, Tex. He was a student at Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, got his Bachelor's degree from Baylor University in 1922 and his Master's degree from the University of Colorado in 1924. The University of Minnesota conferred the degree of Ph.D. in 1931 and in 1948, his Alma Mater, Baylor, made him a Doctor of Letters.

After interrupting his college education in 1917 to serve as a seaman in the first World War, Hill left the field of education again for military service in October, 1940, when he was assigned to the 32nd Infantry Division and served with that unit until February, 1942.

Many Decorations

Then he assumed command of the 190th Field Artillery Regiment, serving until June 1, 1945. He had been in the Officers' Reserve Corps and a National Guard Artillery officer since 1923. In 1946 he was promoted to the rank of major general in the 32nd Division (Wisconsin).

Enlisted Men, Unemployed Are Poor Insurance Risks

Students attending colleges away from home, especially those attending schools outside their home state, are finding it more and more difficult to insure their cars. One insurance company in a list of drivers ranked by occupation in order of their desirability, placed students third from the bottom in a list of 64. Enlisted men and unemployed persons are the poorest risks.

One reason for the unwillingness of insurance companies to insure students is that most college students are between the ages of 18 and 25, an age group with a high accident frequency.

Students living at home are preferred to those who do not because of parental restraint. Among students attending schools away from home there is a tendancy to "whoop it up" at football games, parties and dances which may result in excessive fatigue or othe. causes of accidents. Students at home indulge less frequently in stag parties and late hours. It helps too if the youth's father has a policy with the company.

Students are often a poor risk because the car frequently has more than one driver. Students are reluctant to deny the use of their car to their friends, frequently friends who are less responsible.

Some students from metropolitan areas attending small colleges try to dodge the high insurance rate in their home area by registering their car under their school address. Such students are often denied a policy and are advised to secure insurance from their home agent.

Students are not the only drivers who are considered poor risks. Enlisted military personnel are at the bottom of the list with unemployed drivers ranking between them and students.

How Drivers Are Rated

The list in order of their desirability follows: Wholesale establish-

Nancy McKenrick, Orrtanna R. 1, is suing Charles Verdier, Fayetville R. 1, and Francis Forsythe, Fayetteville, for damages as a result of an auto accident in February on Mt. Newman on the Lincoln Highway.

According to the complaint in the action in trespass filed for the plaintiff by Attorney Donald G. Gettysburg is grateful to the distinguished President for making this his home and Gettysburg, in turn, should, we feel, make some public gesture of appreciation.

For some time we have been nursing a thought that may be accepted as a humble gesture of appreciation. Why not name the road that circles half of the Presidential farm "Eisenhower Lane" for our newest and most distinguished resident?

"Eisenhower Lane," generally referred to, but not officially, as the water works road, would extend from W. Confederate Ave., at Swope's Park, along the north and west boundary of the Eisenhower Farm.

If you like the idea write us. If you don't, tell us why.

"It works on battlefields. Why not in the home?

"Most children like responsibility. They can do a lot to make sure their 'charges' don't become victims of home accidents."

Specifically, he suggests that older children:

1. Keep an eye on their young buddy while swimming.

2. Help younger children cross streets.

3. Keep an eye on him during all play activities, especially when out of mother's sight.

The power lawn mower may save dad an aching back — but it can give him or Junior a pain in the hallux.

"Accident Facts," statistical yearbook of the National Safety Council, doesn't explain that the hallux is the big toe, but it does point out that the hallux, the four smaller toes and other parts of the foot are most frequently injured in power mower accidents.

A recent survey by the Georgia Department of Public Health revealed that one power mower injury in seven resulted in some permanent disability. Information for the survey was obtained from about one-fourth of the doctors in Georgia.

* * *

They reported 737 accidents in which 794 persons were injured during a period of less than two years. Direct contact with mowers caused 553 of the injuries. Objects thrown by the mowers accounted for 241.

More than nine-tenths of the accidents involved rotary type mowers, as compared with less than one-tenth for the reel type. No figures are available on the number of mowers of each type, but it is believed that the accident total for rotary mowers is due in part to the large number in use.

Civil Rights Bill In Doubt; Ike's Blast May Mean Veto

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D—Ga) called a meeting of senators from nine Southern states today to decide how much more resistance to offer to the administration's battered civil rights bill.

The Senate finished its rewriting of the House-passed measure late yesterday, but final arguments on its passage were put over until next week.

"This bill is not going to work any hardship on the people of Georgia," Russell said in advance of the closed meeting in his office. But he said he was going to vote against it.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he hoped for a roll call vote Wednesday on final passage. He expressed hope that it would pass by "an overwhelming majority."

Fate Is Uncertain

But the ultimate fate of the bill was clouded in uncertainty because the House either must accept the Senate changes or a compromise will have to be worked out that can run the gantlet of both branches.

In addition, President Eisenhower's blast at the bill, as amended by the Senate, prompted speculation about a possible veto if the measure should reach him with a jury trial provision in it.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said he regards the bill as "better than nothing at all." He said he would vote for it, but he expressed hope that it would be "strengthened" by a Senate-House conference committee.

Johnson Likes Bill

In contract, Johnson said he believed the bill had been strengthened by the Senate and "made more acceptable" to the great majority of the nation and the Congress. He called it a "meaningful and effective civil rights bill."

The Senate stripped out of the House measure authority for the attorney general to obtain federal court injunctions to enforce civil rights generally, limiting this power to the protection of voting rights.

And, in an even more stunning blow to the administration early Friday, the Senate adopted, 51-42, an amendment providing for jury trials of any criminal contempt charges growing out of injunctions obtained by the government in voting rights cases and many other cases.

Eisenhower said yesterday that interposing "a jury trial between a federal judge and his legal orders ... would weaken our whole judicial system."

Youth Gangsterism Is City Problem

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says "youth gangsterism" is one of the greatest problems facing New York City.

A sure solution to the problem, he said last night, is conversion to the Christian life.

Graham spoke to 14,000 persons in another of his New York crusade meetings in Madison Square Garden.

"We have converted about 10,000 teen-agers during the meetings held here since the crusade started," Graham said. "We hope there will be many more."

At Graham's call 325 persons stepped up at the close of the meeting to make "decisions for Christ."

COMB MOUNTAIN FOR PLANE WRECK

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rescue workers began climbing the side of a densely wooded mountain about 10 miles north of here today to check out a report that the wreckage of a plane had been sighted in the area.

Capt. Douglas J. Tobin, of the Civil Air Patrol, said some 50 volunteer workers began the climb in what he termed a "slim hope that we will find the wreckage."

A farmer, Tobin said, reported sighting from the ground last Thursday what might have been the remnants of a plane listed as missing since last May 23.

Dewey Fisher, Norfolk, Va., was reported missing on that date. Records showed Fisher was ferrying a new Piper Pa-18 from Lock Haven to Norfolk when he disappeared.

The wreckage was reported sighted near Halifax — a small community located in the midst of high mountains which Tobin described as "almost impossible to get into."

RED DECLARES DULLES' ARM PLAN IS UNFAIR

LONDON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles' outline of a two-part Western plan for air and ground arms inspection of the Soviet Union and most of North America and Europe has drawn a cautious first reaction from the Russians.

Dulles flew back to Washington to report to President Eisenhower after terming the Soviet reaction "not as bad as had been feared and about as good as had been hoped."

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin told the U.N. disarmament subcommittee the plan presented yesterday by Dulles would receive careful study. But he suggested that it was unfair to Russia and favored the West.

Under the Western proposals, Russia and the West would exchange permission for inspectors to search on the ground and by air for warlike moves.

Covers Wide Area

The first proposed area would take in all the Soviet Union, North America above the Rio Grande and Europe except for a fringe of Ireland and southern parts of Spain and Portugal, Italy, Albania, Greece and Turkey.

Or, under an alternate plan, Russia could agree to inspection of the Arctic area plus two pie-shaped segments with points at the North pole. This would include most of Europe from Ireland to the Urals on one side and Alaska to Russia's Kamchatka peninsula on the other.

Several smaller variations could be accepted, Dulles said, all subject to approval of the Western nations involved.

Zorin complained that the proposals did not allow for Soviet inspection of Western bases in Japan, North Africa, the Middle East and elsewhere. Another Soviet spokesman later said the main threat to Russian security comes from bases excluded from the plan.

The spokesman said Russia considered Dulles' proposal of ways to control disarmament meaningless without cutting down on arms.

LIBRARIANS ARE

1945 and the middle name of the President's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, were the subjects of other questions put to the librarians.

What's On At The Opera?

Most of the questions come from adults and a generous sprinkling from high school and college-age students. The librarians don't remember who it was that had them look up Woodrow Wilson's "watchful waiting" policy. Someone else wanted to know exactly what services are supplied by the state library and the Library of Congress.

Someone came to the library to ask about the peaceful uses of atomic energy, to find out what questions are asked in the naturalization of citizens and another to get a map of the time zones of the United States. The library supplied historical information on churches in Adams County for another library user who sought information. A picture of the McQueen plaid and data on the way in which May Day is celebrated in Russia were routine for the veteran staff but it was a different situation when someone wanted to know what to do for mice that devour their young.

The librarians came through with flying colors when some one dropped in to find out what was playing at the Metropolitan Opera in New York City on a particular Friday and Saturday. They found out but didn't follow through to see if the inquirer really went to the opera on one of those days.

CONFIDENTIAL MAGAZINE TRIAL OPENS SLOWLY

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The much ballyhooed criminal libel case against Confidential Magazine had its premiere yesterday — complete with Hollywood stars, cameras and adoring fans.

The case got off to a slow start, however, because of legel technicalities and a courtroom mixup. When the session ended the selection of the jury had started, but apparently it will be well into next week before 12 jurors are chosen.

Eager fans jammed the court room and corridors to catch a glimpse of witnesses such as actors Tab Hunter, Buddy Baer and Alan Nixon, the former husband of actress Marie Wilson; Mrs. Josephine Dillon, Clark Gable's former wife, and screen extra Stella Shouel.

Several Defendants

Defendants are confidential, its sister publication, Whisper; Robert Harrison, publisher; Fred and Marjorie Meade, operators of Hollywood Research, Inc., Confidential's West Coast office; four other individuals and four corporations involved in the production and sales of the magazines.

When the trial started, after moving from the wrong court room to which it originally was assigned, only the Meades were present. Their attorney argued that only they and their firm had been legally served and were actually on trial.

The prosecution claimed — and Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker agreed — that the corporate entities of the two magazines and a printing firm were also on trial.

The prosecution says that the other individuals and corporations, outside California and resisting prosecution, will be tried if it succeeds in bringing them into the state.

The prosecution is basing its case on stories printed in Confidential about Mae West, Maureen O'Hara, Dick Powell, Corrine Calvet, Robert Mitchum, Dorothy Dandridge, John Carroll and Mark Stevens.

The defense, however, has subpoenaed more than 100 Hollywood personalities, claiming it intends to bring them into court in an attempt to prove that stories about them were true. These reticent witnesses include Hunter, Baer, Nixon, Rory Calhoun, Gary Cooper Walter Pidgeon, Lana Turner and Sonny Tufts.

Trouble Spreads In Eastern Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — Resistance to President Fulgencio Batista's regime stiffened in eastern Cuba today as antigovernment strikes and rebel flareups threatened to spread throughout the area.

Reports said insurgent forces of Fidel Castro had come down from their mountain hideouts and engaged elements of Batista's army.

A military headquarters spokesman said army units encountered a rebel band near Uberos on the south coast of Oriente Province yesterday, killing 10 insurgents and capturing several others.

Censorship was in effect on local and incoming foreign newspapers and radio stations and on outgoing news dispatches and details were limited. Local newspapers refrained from giving any news about the political situation.

Petitions Oppose New Quarry Plans

Petitions opposing opening of new quarries in the Thomasville area will be presented to the Jackson Twp. supervisors at their meeting Monday night in Thomasville Fire Hall.

The petitions are being circulated by Clyde L. Staub, a contractor, and Charles Snyder, an electrical appliance dealer, both of Thomasville. Snyder said today they have been signed by 60 persons thus far and the number may reach 100.

The movement has been actuated by the core drilling in a field along the north side of the Lincoln Highway just east of Thomasville. The field is a portion of an 180-acre farm owned by H. Smyser Bair, York.

Snyder said he has been told the farm is under option to the Medusa ortland Cement Company. He said the farm is "on a direct line" between two other quarrying operations in the area. There was "no comment" from the cement company or Bair.

News Briefs

RATHBONE, N. Y. (AP)—A 20-year-old youth was drowned in the Canisteo River yesterday as he tried in vain to save an eight-year-old boy.

Police said the boy, Roger D. Abbey, fell into about 20 feet of water while he was playing on a dam in this Steuben County community. Gordon H. Risley dived into the water fully clothed in an attempt to save the boy, but apparently became exhausted and sank.

Both bodies were recovered.

HARRISBURG (AP) — George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, said today Gov. Leader vetoed "every piece" of good government legislation passed by the 1957 General Assembly.

Bloom's statement announced he would speak at Republican picnics at Indiana Aug. 6, at Greenville Aug. 7 and at Camp Potato, Potter County, Aug. 9.

ONEIDA, N.Y. (AP)—Twelve-year-old William Harrington raced through the entrance of the municipal swimming pool, leaped into 11 feet of water, then yelled for help. After being fished out, he explained: "I can't swim."

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., (AP)—Alderman John P. Wynne today set next Tuesday for a hearing on charges of assault and battery sworn out by two union officials against a rival union head.

Frank Grasso, Albany, N. Y., and Jerome Jones, Johnsonburg, charged that they were attacked and beaten last week while distributing leaflets near a Lock Haven paper plant.

The warrant was sworn out against Harold Sweeny, representative of District 50, United Mine Workers.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four House Republicans say a bill to provide for federal development of atomic-fueled electric power plants is an attempt to "blackjack" the Atomic Energy Commission into accepting public power theories.

The four, members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, issued a statement yesterday commenting on the bill approved by the committee last Tuesday. The measure would authorize 58 million dollars for the nuclear electric program.

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Highways Department will open bids Aug. 30 on construction of the first section of the Erie County Throughway.

When completed, the 46½ mile limited access highway will connect the New York Thruway with Route 20 in Ohio.

Doctors say the left hand pockets of their suits wear out first. That's where they keep their stop watch to check pulse reactions.

MERGE EIGHT MILITARY UNITS

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a major consolidation move, the Army has merged eight military reserve headquarters in seven eastern states and the District of Columbia into two new corps commands located at Indiantown Gap, Pa., and Ft. Hayes, Ohio.

In its announcement yesterday, the Army said the 21st Corps headquarters at Indiantown Gap will handle all Army reserve activities in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

The 20th Corps headquarters at Ft. Hayes will have similar responsibilities for Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

Each of the headquarters will be commanded by a major general who will be responsible for the training, administration and support of reserve units within his area.

About 960 civilians are employed in the eight military districts being merged into two corps headquarters. The Army said these civilians will be given priority for reassignment to the new headquarters.

In regard to Indiantown Gap, the Defense Dept. said the move will probably mean the addition of more personnel there, but added it is unlikely any new buildings will be needed. A spokesman at the Defense Dept. said the situation has not been worked out finally yet. He was unable to supply any specific information on personnel.

YOUNG CONVICT FLEES ROCKVIEW

BELLEFONTE, Pa., (AP) — State police and prison guards searched today for a 29-year-old convict who escaped last night from Rockview Penitentiary.

The convict, Smith Hudson of Smithfield, Pa., walked off from a boiler house outside the stockade about 10:15. He was serving a 10-20 year term for second degree murder and involuntary manslaughter.

Warden H. R. Johnston said Hudson had been working under the supervision of one prison officer in a crew of about eight prisoners in the boiler house. The men were getting ready to return to the stockade at the time and the officer did not notice Hudson's absence until later, Johnston said.

Rockview is a minimum security prison. It has an iron fence but no wall. The grounds include about 7,000 acres.

The Great Lakes Naval center trained 125,000 sailors in World War I. It trained more than a million sailors in World War II.

Today's Talk

POWER OF PURPOSE

It is essential for each one of us to make a decision early in life as to what we shall do with our life. There must be an aim, and purpose, and we must have vision and be determined to battle out life, patiently, faithfully and even heroically. Never should we admit failure. We can only actually fail when we no longer have faith in our heart, and the power of purpose is gone.

With no aim in life we become mere lookers on, serving no useful end. There is magic in all manner of roads to a successful life. The longer you pursue the line that you have selected, the more efficient and happy you are sure to become. Power is cumulative, and so keeps giving a lift to the aim that we have.

Whatever we work at should stimulate happiness within us. Stevenson said that "a happy man or woman is a better thing to find than a five-pound note. He or she is a radiating focus of goodwill; and their entrance into a room is as though another candle had been lighted." Happiness is always latent power. Happiness should become habitual. What a scampering of aches and pains, as well as broken resolutions, the moment that a person of purpose takes command-

To achieve our objectives in life we must have imagination, patience and a resolute mind. The power of purpose can run through the mind and influence every thought that enters the brain. And it gives a push to every worthwhile endeavor. We are not dependents when we resolve to co-operate with those who believe in having an aim in life and sticking to it. The power of purpose covers up so many enterprises that might have been but a hindrance if carried out. We must get rid of the belief that possessions can become a substitute for character.

The power of purpose is forever on the move, and its influence can become worldwide!

U. S. STUDENTS TOOK MOSCOW TRIP FOR "FUN"

By STERLING SLAPPEY

MOSCOW (AP) — Many of the American college students in this Soviet capital for the Moscow youth festival apparently just came along for the bargain joyride.

At least a third of the 160-member U. S. group took advantage of Soviet cut-rate travel and lodging fees to come here to see the sights and for little else. And a few came for purposes hardly anticipated by their Soviet hosts who are staging the 15-day festival. The festival began last Sunday.

Excuse To Mal. Movie

One Chicagoan admits he used the festival as an excuse to get into the Soviet Union to make a movie illustrating a lecture series he has booked for next winter in the United States.

One girl came with a packet of letters introducing her to Nikita Khrushchev, Soviet party head.

"All I wanted was to see him," she said.

Eleven other Americans said they had not attended, and don't intend to attend, a single seminar set up by the Communists.

Too Busy Seeing Sights

"I'm too busy sightseeing," said Anne Hobson of Richmond, Va., who studies at the University of London.

George Abrams, of Newton, Mass., and Rick Medalie, of Minneapolis, said they have been spending most of their time talking to as many as 200 Muscovites at a time and telling them about the U.N. report condemning the Soviet Union's intervention in the Hungarian uprising last fall.

Attractive Deal

Many of the Americans quartered in a hotel at the agricultural exposition in Moscow's suburbs tell you they know others who rarely attend the festival's scheduled meetings.

About 30,000 students from 90 nations are estimated to be here.

Many said they found the deal offered by the communists too good to turn down.

For $140 the youths joined groups in London and were given round trip transportation by train between London and Moscow, more than two weeks of food, lodging and entertainment, and even free rides on the Moscow subway.

Redlegs Climbing As They Crush Giants; Cardinals Win 7th, Nailing Phillies

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Just when some folks were about to scratch Cincinnati from the National League race, the Redlegs suddenly look robust again, complete with late-inning home runs for a three-game winning streak.

After slipping from first to fifth with a terrible July run (13-14), the Redlegs are on the way back, winning 'em late—but winning.

Ted Kluszewski, Wally Post and Smoky Burgess were back in business last night for a 9-6 victory over the New York Giants. Klu belted a two-run homer for a first inning lead, Burgess smacked a two-run shot to regain the edge in the eighth, and Post pickled a three-run drive to win it in the ninth.

Extra Innings

The victory put the fourth-place Redlegs within one game of Brooklyn, after Gene Conley four-hit the Dodgers and lined the run-scoring single in a 1-0 Milwaukee victory that kept the second-place Braves just two points shy of St. Louis. Brooklyn is 2½ games behind.

The Cardinals won their seventh in a row, nailing fifth-place Philadelphia 5-4 in 10 innings as Stan Musial doubled home the clincher. The Man had three hits, all for extra bases.

Chicago's Cubs, without one earned run, defeated Pittsburgh 6-4 in the other NL game.

Manager Bobby Bragan was dismissed early today. Coach Danny Murtaugh took his place.

The American League race bordered on a "runaway" again as the New York Yankees, hitless for 6 1-3 innings against Don Mossi, pushed to a five-game spread with a 3-2 victory over Cleveland. The second-place Chicago White Sox lost their second in a row, this one 5-4 to Boston in 10.

Leaves Cellar

Washington skipped out of the cellar with a 2-1 victory over Detroit while Baltimore plunked Kansas City to eighth with a twilight sweep, 5-4 in 13 innings and 10-2.

The Giants, losing six in a row, made a fight of it with home runs by Bobby Thomson and Willie Mays and a tying run in the top of the ninth on Danny O'Connell's single. Hersh Freeman won it.

Musial's second double sent Don Blasingame home from first base, digging past third when left fielder Harry Anderson slipped fielding the drive on the run. Willard Schmidt, with a two-hit relief job over four frames, won his 10th in a row for a 10-1 record. Wally Moon pushed his hit streak to 19 games with two doubles.

Conley gave up only singles, three to Carl Furillo. He walked five, but fanned Duke Snider, Gil Hodges and Rube Walker in clutch spots. Johnny Podres lost it for a 9-4 record when the Braves scored an unearned run in the fifth.

Mossi had faced only 19 men when Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle hit back-to-back homers for a 2-2 tie in the seventh. It was Mantle's 29th. A walk and singles by Tony Kubek and pinch-hitter Harry Simpson won it in the eighth.

A bases-loaded single by Jackie Jensen won for the Red Sox, who blew an early lead set up by Ted Williams' three-run homer, his 30th to match Henry Aaron of the Braves for the major league lead.

The Senators, in eighth since April 26, made it on Julio Becquer's RBI single in the ninth to beat Paul Foytack. Camilio Pascual won it after Roy Sievers tied it 1-all with his 29th home run—matching the club mark he set last season.

George Zuverink won his 10th in relief for the Orioles on Bobby Boyd's homer in the opener. George Kell and Joe Ginsberg each drove in two runs in the nightcap. Kell replaced rookie Brooks Robinson, who was beaned by a Ned Garver pitch but escaped without a fracture.

TROUT SEASON EXTENDED ON 29 PA. LAKES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's 1957 season for brook, brown and rainbow trout has been extended to Oct. 31 on 29 lakes.

The State Fish Commission, announcing the extension yesterday, said the season would close as scheduled Sept. 2 on all other inland waters.

William Voigt Jr., executive director of the commission, said the decision to end the season Oct. 31 on the 29 lakes "was made so an earlier fall fingerling stocking program in our lakes can be undertaken."

List Treated Lakes

Voigt said 6 of the 29 lakes had been chemically treated in the past two years to remove mixed and stunted fish. The lakes then were planted with trout only and the use of fish as bait was prohibited. As a result, Voigt said, trout in these lakes have shown a growth rate exceeding that in untreated lakes and in some commission hatcheries.

The treated lakes include Cowan's Gap Dam, 42 acres, Fulton County; Highland Lake, 18 acres, Lycoming County; Lyman Run Dam, 40 acres, Potter County; Chapman Dam, 78 acres, Warren County; Upper Woods Pond, 80 acres, Wayne County; and Keystone Reservoir, 73 acres, Westmoreland County.

Nearby Waters Included

Other lakes included in the fall season, their size and locations:

North Park Lake, 74 acres, Allegheny County; Chambersburg Water Reservoir, 53 acres, and Waynesboro Water Reservoir, 23 acres, Adams County; Koon Lake, 268 acres, Bedford County; Scott's Run Lake, 22 acres, Berks County; Mountain Lake, 40 acres, Bradford County; Glade Run Lake 51 acres, Butler County; Parker Dam, 20 acres, Clearfield County; Laurel Lake, 24 acres, Cumberland County; Lake Pleasant, 60 acres, Erie County.

Letterkenny Reservoir, 54 acres, Franklin County; Whipple Dam, 21 acres, Huntingdon County; Chapman Lake, 98 acres, and Crystal Lake, 191 acres, Lackawanna County; Harvey's Lake 658 acres, and Silkworth Lake, 75 acres, Luzerne County; Little Pine Run Lake, 88 acres, Lycoming County; Upper Perkiomen Valley Park Lake, 38 acres, Montgomery County; Wallenapupack Lake, 5,700 acres, Pike County; Lake Loraine, 48 acres, Wayne County; Cary Lake, 262 acres; Winola Lake, 198 acres, and Oxbow Lake, 60 acres, Wyoming County.

LEADS TOURNEY BY 2 STROKES AT 3RD ROUND

CHICAGO (AP) — Roberto de Vicenzo was the man to catch today as he sought to become the first foreign winner of the All-American Golf Tournament since Bobby Locke's invasion 10 years ago.

De Vicenzo, a strapping 220-pound South American pro who works out of Mexico City, had a two-stroke lead entering the third round of the $25,000 All-American after wrecking Tam O'Shanter's par yesterday with a 64.

But De Vicenzo could not breathe too easily. Two younger pros were hot on his trail. Bill Casper of Bonita, Calif., 26, fourth leading money-winner of the season, carved a 68 for 135 and 28-year-old Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., medalist in the All-American qualifying round, fashioned a 67 for 136

Jimmy Demaret carried the hopes of the so-called old guard with 137. Grouped at 138 were Tommy Bolt, Don Fairfield, Doug Ford and Bob Rosburg.

Porky Oliver, the first round pacesetter, went from a 66 to a 76 and a 142 total.

The men's pro field was cut in half for the final 36 holes and it took a 148 or better to make it.

First prize in the All-American is $3,500. The "World" winner next week reaps $50,000 and a $50,000 exhibition contract.

The other All-American sections shaped up this way:

Women pros—Lead shared by Jackie Pung and Fay Crocker with 5-under-par 147.

Women amateurs—Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., with 157 for a six-stroke lead over Mary Tully, Salem, Wis.

Men amateurs—Howard Everitt, 41-year-old salesman from Northfield, N. J., with 144. He was shadowed by two University of Houston golf team stars, Bob Pratt with 145 and defending All-American champion Jim Hiskey with 146.

GAME HERE SUNDAY

The Elks team of the local Softball League will meet the Shippensburg All-Stars on the recreation field diamond Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Shippensburg is reported to have one of the finest softball hurlers in this area in Johnny O'Brien who has three one-hitters to his credit this season.

Porky Concentrates

Ed "Porky" Oliver watches putt go into cup during opening round of Tam O'Shanter All-American golf tournament near Chicago Thursday. He finished with a 66—six below par—to lead the pack into second round. (AP Wirephoto)

Tom Faulkner Accepts Post At Lehighton, Succeeding New Gettysburg High Coach

Thomas Faulkner has accepted the offer to become head football and track coach of the Leighton-Weissport Union School District High School, according to a report today from the Lehighton Leader.

Faulkner, a graduate of Gettysburg College, piloted Biglerville High School to a brilliant 7-1-1 record last year when the Canners copped the Laurel Conference championship.

The 28-year-old ex-Bullet backfield star, succeeds Ben Jones who will be the new coach at Gettysburg High School beginning in August.

Lehighton school officials had elected George Strager, head coach at Sisterville, W.Va., to succeed Jones but Strager turned down the post to assume a similar position at Clarksville, W.Va.

It was reported that Faulkner will receive approximately $4,800, including $500 for his coaching duties.

Coached Champions

Faulkner graduated from Gettysburg College in 1954 and taught two years at Shaw Junior High School,

THOMAS FAULKNER

Philadelphia. Last year he gave Biglerville one of its best teams in many years, losing only to Shippensburg 24-13 in the opening game and then going unbeaten the remainder of the season with only a tie with West York to mar the record. Top victories were registered over Boiling Springs and Littlestown.

The Lehighton school is a member of the Lehigh Valley League and will play 10 games during the coming season, including four night games and six Saturday afternoon contests. The opener will be at Jim Thorpe September 14.

Assisting Faulkner will be Bill Smith, ex-Muhlenberg star, and James Wentz.

More than 3,000 saw Pete Cimino register six strikeouts for Bristol and go all the way in the league final at Connie Mack Stadium. Phoenixville's Craig Munshower lost four runs in the second after an infield error with one out to go.

Two Departments Get Appropriations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense and Agriculture Departments — which had been without authority to spend any money since Wednesday midnight — had funds again today.

President Eisenhower signed bills yesterday to operate the two departments for the 12 months which began July 1. Both had been operating on temporary spending authority from July 1 to July 31 because of their regular appropriations bills were stalled by civil rights debate in the Senate.

The Defense Department got $33,759,850,000. The Agriculture Department and the Farm Credit Administration were given $3,666,-543,757.

New Challenge Faces Teamsters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters Union, apparently threatening to lead building trades unions out of the AFL-CIO, has endorsed a Detroit labor group's position challenging the big labor federation.

The Teamsters' action was regarded as an early step by James R. Hoffa, a rising power in that union, to try to get his own way in the AFL-CIO, or else pull the Teamsters and possibly other unions out of the labor organization.

But in San Francisco last night, Hoffa said the reported threat "isn't really serious." He added: "We'll be able to work everything out all right."

LONG MILE

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's richest horse race is known as the $50,000-added Michigan Mile. But it will be contested at a mile and one-sixteenth Sept. 21 at the Detroit Race Course. Track officials decided to lengthen the race to attract more of the nation's top handicap horses.

AAU SWIM MEET LISTS UPSETS, BROKEN RECORDS

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—If the first two days of the 1957 National AAU Senior Swimming and Diving Championships are any criterion, upsets and records appear to be the order of the meet.

Only three of the 15 titles scheduled for this four-day affair at John B. Kelly Pool have been decided and already, two records have been smashed and two upsets produced by comparative unknowns.

Ron Smith, a 21-year-old blond crew-cut from Houston, Tex., and Gary Heinrich, 17-year-old high school senior of Hayward, Calif., each won his first major title yesterday.

Expects Bug-Eyed

Smith piled up 538.4 points to capture the 3-meter springboard diving crown, while Heinrich left the experts bug-eyed with a 10-meter win over Bill Yorzyh, Springfield, Mass., in the 400-meter individual medley.

George Breen of the Buffalo, N. Y., AC, earned the third championship when he repeated in the 1,500-meter freestyle over George Onekea Jr. of the Hawaii Swim Club. Breen was clocked in meet record time of 18:17.9, bettering the 1949 mark of 18:19.0 set by Hironshin Furuhashi, Tokyo, at Los Angeles. He also topped his American citizen's mark of 18:27.6.

Heinrich, swimming for the Bay-O-Vista Swim Club coached by his dad, Al Heinrich, was timed in 5:15.6, bettering the American mark of 5:19 eutablished by the vanquished Yorzyk last year.

Ask Ike To Label N. J. As Emergency Area

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — President Eisenhower has been asked to declare New Jersey a drought emergency area.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner telegarphed the request to the President yesterday, saying New Jersey farmers have suffered a loss of 20 million dollars in the state's worst drought in history.

If Eisenhower declares an emergency, restrictions on land use under the federal soil bank program would be eased and livestock farmers would be eligible for subsidies to buy feed.

Phillip Alampi, state secretary of agriculture, and a group of farm leaders also decided to ask the U.S. Agriculture Department to declare New Jersey a "disaster area." This would make farmers eligible for loans from the Farmers' Home Administration at half the usual interest rates.

Woman Is 1st To Win Marlin Test

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Mrs. Maida Gordon of Wyncote, Pa., is the first woman to win the Greater Atlantic City Marlin Tournament.

Competing for the Greater Egg Harbor Yacht Club, Mrs. Gordon took the individual championship yesterday by landing her second fish in the three-day tournament.

It was a 66-pound white marlin and boosted her point total to 224.

Her club won the team championship, too, with 421.82 points, based on fish weight and test strength of line used.

Second in the individual rankings was William F. Leach of Philadelphia and the Beach Haven Marlin Tuna Club. He landed a 48-pounder yesterday, his second catch of the tourney.

Altogether, 12 fish were boated yesterday to raise the three-day total to 36. Only 13 were landed last year and only seven in 1955.

PUBLIC LINKS FINALS TODAY

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—A golfwise little guy with a perpetual scared rabbit look and a teenager whose confidence may come from inexperience met today in the 36-hole final of the National Public Links Golf Championship.

There was a nagging thought in the minds of Pennsylvania golf fans that little Gene Towry's steadiness may be a bit too much for young Don Essig to handle.

Essig is the 18-year-old from Indianapolis whose personality and golf skill have caught the fancy of the slim crowds following the 32nd Publinx tournament at the Hershey Park Golf Club. He's the kind of unaffected kid who has the fans wanting him to win even when they expect him to lose.

Hardly Noticed

Towry, from Dallas, Tex., hardly has been noticed by the spectators. He's a wispy little man weighing about 120 pounds who wears drab clothes and seldom makes a spectacular shot. It isn't until you see the steady string of pars on his card that you realize what good golf he has been playing.

While about 200 or 300 spectators trudged around under the hot sun yesterday to see Essig score a dramatic 4 and 3 victory over Don Sckrabulis, the Kewanee, Ill., boilermaker, only Towry's wife, the scorekeeper and occasionally one or two others saw Towry administer a 7 and 6 beating to Paul Popovic of San Francisco.

FIRE PIRATES' BRAGAN; COACH WILL CARRY ON

CHICAGO (AP)—Brash Bobby Bragan today was fired as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Coach Danny Murtaugh was named to carry on for the balance of the season.

Pirate General Manager Joe L Brown said Bragan, in his second season, was dismissed for the "general welfare" of the club. He did not elaborate.

A club spokesman said Clyde Sukeforth, veteran Pirate coach, was first offered the job but turned it down in Murtaugh's favor.

The spokesman said Murtaugh accepted the post with the "full understanding" that it was only to be temporary.

Murtaugh, 39, became a Pirate coach in 1956 after four years of managing in the minor leagues. He broke into the major leagues as an infielder with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1941, spent part of the 1947 season with the then Boston Braves and then was traded to the Pirates.

Brown said Bragan's dismissal was "by far the most difficult decision" he ever had to make. And he said Bragan accepted it gracefully, in a manner that showed he was a "big man."

Bragan said he was neither surprised or shocked at the news.

"When you're losing things like that don't come as a shock or surprise," he said. "That's the way the ball bounces."

The fiery manager said he lost his job for many reasons but primarily because his team was losing. The Pirates are in seventh place in the National League. They finished in seventh last year.

"It's been a series of things," he said, "Primarily losing, and Brown felt it was time to make a change."

Referring to Brown, Bragan said "we're the same age, you know, both the aggressive type and both like to have our own way. We didn't see eye to eye on a number of things."

He said he didn't want to go into the other "things."

Bragan was hired as Pirate manager in November 1955 and was rehired last November.

BOYD WANTS TO MEET GIARDELLO

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Boyd let it be known today after defeating Willie Vaughn for his fifth straight victory that he wants Joey Giardello and nobody else for his next fight.

It was Giardello who shattered the Chicago middleweight's string at nine wins last September. Boyd went into the fight with Giardello as the second ranked 160 pounder and came out with a fractured jaw and ninth place on the ranking list.

"All I want is another shot at Giardello," said the 23-year old Boyd after turning in his second straight split decision over Vaughn in the nationally televised fight at St. Nicks last night.

Referee Harry Kessler and Judge Arthur Aidala each saw Boyd winning 5-4-1. Judge Frank Fullam had each fighter winning five rounds with the same number of points for a draw. The Associated Press scored it 5-4-1 for Boyd.

For his 45th win in 54 with seven losses and two draws, Boyd weighed 158¼ pounds. The 24 year old Vaughn from Los Angeles balanced the weights at 160. It was his 16th loss in 54 fights.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Losing streaks snapped like popcorn around the Eastern League last night.

The big bang was Springfield's 10-game skein, broken by the Giants' 6-3 victory over Albany. Reading ended a three-game string by whipping Allentown 3-2.

The front-runners, Schenectady and Binghamton, split a doubleheader so Schenectady's Blue Jays stayed a half game in the lead.

The Triplets took the first game 7-5 in clusters of homers and unearned runs. The Jays blanked the Trips 2-0 in the nightcap.

BUILDING AND FARM

Zettle Tells Methods Of Improving Egg Quality; Increasing Milk Yields

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Where pasture is short or of poor quality, it is important that dairymen provide their cattle with supplementary roughage. Feeding hay or silage will help to prevent losses in milk production. Such losses cannot be fully regained later. Farmers may be primarily concerned with their milking herd, but should not forget the young stock. These animals require supplementary feed to keep growing. Young heifers are the dairy herd of the future.

Some dairymen whose hay yields are considerably below normal are feeding silage to supplement pastures. Silos can be refilled with corn or rye in the fall. Fall seeded grains, etc., seeded grains may make some late pasture for the dairyman.

Increased grain feeding is another means for maintaining milk production when pasture is scarce or poor in quality. A return to barn feeding or semi-barn feeding conditions will be profitable under such circumstances.

If cows cannot get their fill of actively growing forage in 3 to 4 hours of grazing, they need pasture supplement. To avoid a serious slump in milk production, the supplement needs to be started at once.

In hot weather, water and shade also are important for the dairy cow. Plenty of water helps keep the cows comfortable and enables them to carry out normal body functions. Shade lets cattle escape from the boiling sun when the heat prevents them from grazing. When natural shade is not available, artificial shelters can be constructed rather easily. Fly control is necessary, too, for cow comfort. When cow comfort is combined with adequate supplementary feed summer milk slumps can be avoided, even in an extremely dry season.

Dark yolks in eggs may result from too infrequent gathering and faulty egg room management. Excessive amounts of yellow corn or green pasture or both, in the layer ration also can be factors in dark yolks. Dry air in the egg room or about the eggs in the nest, or the effect of heat in either or both places, are still others.

Warm, dry-air removes moisture from the egg. Internal changes cause thick white to break down to thin white. When the egg is twirled before the candling device the yolk rapidly moves toward the shell casting a dark shadow as the light passes through the egg. On breaking the yolk color may meet the specifications of high quality, but the thin condition of the white forces the candler to place such eggs in a lower grade. Maintaining every step of a sound egg quality program is the answer.

Start Compost In Summer

Most garden soils need humus, for humus helps the soil to hold more moisture and makes the garden easier to work.

One method of supplying humus to the soil is by adding manure. Another way is to grow a cover crop in the garden. Still another method is to build a compost pile and put the compost on the garden soil. This is one of the best ways of providing humus because it makes good use of waste materials.

Summer is the time to begin making a compost pile which can be prepared throughout the rest of the year.

Possible materials for the compost are leaves, grass weeds, discarded plant remains from the garden if they are not diseased, scraps of vegetable matter, sawdust, sod, soil, and animal manures.

The compost pile should be located where it is screened by a building or some plant growth. As the materials become available, put them in layers on the ground, keeping the top of the pile lower in the middle than the sides, so that the pile can be watered and kept moist.

From time to time apply a layer of manure and chemical fertilizer. Spread about 1 pint of garden fertilizer over each six-inch layer where the compost pile is 10 feet long and five feet wide.

Compost can be made at any time of year, but the process of decay is slowed in cold weather. During dry periods put water on the pile. Be sure the pile is thoroughly rotted before it is applied to the garden. The compost is improved by mixing occasionally.

Tangier Island in Chesapeake Bay is five miles long and two miles wide. It has only five automobiles.

PLAN DETAILED SOIL SURVEY IN PENNSYLVANIA

State Department of Agriculture officials and representatives from other state and federal agencies have begun to lay groundwork for the second round of a complete, modern and detailed survey of the soils in the Commonwealth.

To be carried out over a 10-year period, the program is a cooperative one carried out by the state soil Conservation Commission, the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the Pennsylvania State University.

The soil study will include field work by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and laboratory analyses by Penn State soils specialists.

The 1957-59 General Assembly provided a $75,000 allocation to be used during this biennium for the soil study. The federal government will match these funds.

Cut Sum Requested

An earlier study and elevation of the soils in Pennsylvania was begun during the 1955-57 biennium. A total of $75,000 was appropriated for the biennium and additional personnel was added to speed up the survey. However, at the most recent session of the Legislature, the state Department of Agriculture requested $200,000 for a complete soil study program, but this request was reduced to $75,000 by the legislature.

State Secretary of Agriculture William L. Henning, who is also chairman of the State Soil Conservation Commision, said he plans to visit the Penn State soils characteristics laboratory to observe progress being made in renovating and equipping it for additional research to be carried out in this program.

Attending this meeting were: Secretary Henning; Deputy Secretary Leland H. Hull; David Fink, deputy attorney general in the state Justice Department; David Unger, state soil conservation advisor; Ivan McKeever, state conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service; Dr. Howard Sprague, director of agronomy at Penn State, and Dr. Michael Farrell, director of the agricultural experiment station at the University.

Do's and Don't's

DON'T . . . neglect an important part of concrete patching — the curing, which consists, in most cases, of wetting the concrete a couple of times a day for several days.

DON'T . . . use a metal trowel if you want to get a rough finish to match the surrounding surface; use a wooden float for that purpose, as a metal trowel produces a smooth finish.

DON'T . . . overlook the principle of making strong concrete: use only enough water to make the mixture workable, since too much water weakens concrete.

SAYS FORESTERS HELPED PREVENT SPREAD OF MOTH

State Secretary of Agriculture William L. Henning today cited state foresters as being responsible for preventing a possible spread of the destructive gypsy moth caterpillar in Pennsylvania.

He said 20 acres of defoliated trees in Luzerne County were spotted on June 2 by foresters who at first believed the trees had been damaged by forest fires. Upon investigation they found no fire damage and called upon the Department of Agriculture for assistance in determining the cause of damage.

According to Dr. Thomas L. Guyton, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry in the Department of Agriculture, enough egg masses were found in the Luzerne County area to "destroy 400 acres of trees next year if they were not discovered and left unchecked." He said an aerial DDT spraying program next May will include the Luzerne County area to kill newly hatched caterpillars.

Very Costly Pest

Gypsy Moth is one of the most costly pests to woodlands. It reportedly would cost approximately $6 million annually to control in the state if it were permitted to become widespread.

Dr. Guyton said the destruction found was the worst he has ever observed since 1932 when gypsy moth was first found in Pennsylvania. He said the destruction in the 20-acre area was as bad as the 1953 and 1954 damage to woodlands in Massachusetts, reportedly to have damaged more than two million acres of timber at that time.

Since the heavy moth damage was found, Dr. Guyton said plans are being made to place five or more townships in the surrounding areas of Dennison Twp. in southwestern Luzerne County under quarantine. This would mean state and federal personnel would inspect all timber, shrubbery, lumber, stones, plants and junk materials being exported from this area for egg masses.

MARYLAND MAN SHOT TO DEATH

NORTH EAST, Md. (AP)—An elderly motel operator was shot to death near here last night and police early today arrested three men in connection with the slaying.

Raymond Walter Freeland, 70, was killed by a bullet fired into his chest at his place along U.S 40. Police said he also was struck on the head with a hammer.

A short time after the shooting police were alerted to stop a southbound automobile bearing New Jersey license plates. Its occupants, the bulletin said, were wanted for questioning about murder and armed robbery.

About two hours later investigators spotted a car answering the description on Baltimore's northeast outskirts and, after a brief chase, overtook it.

Two men and two women—all Negroes—in the car were taken into custody.

Tom Paine Is In Good Standing Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After a quarter-century in the cellar a white-marble bust of Thomas Paine, American revolutionary pampleteer, again is on display in Philadelphia.

The bust was done in 1875, long after Paine's death, and given to Independence Hall. It remained in the basement, however and not on display because Paine's free-thinking views were unpopular with many persons. In 1918 it was placed in a niche in the hall, but in 1931 it was banished again to the basement.

Now it has been scrubbed clean and is in a window of the old Stock Exchange. It is scheduled to be moved to a spot at the Thomas Paine center, alongside the likeness of another famous free-thinker, Robert Ingersoll. The Paine bust is on loan from the National Park Service.

JOHNNY DIO TO LEAVE JAIL TO TESTIFY

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) —Labor racketeer Johnny Dio is coming out of jail long enough to face questioning by senators on charges that he had a big hand in victimizing many New York workers.

Chairman McClellan (D Ark) of the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee said Dio will be placed on the witness stand Thursday or Friday.

McClellan said Dio can invoke the Fifth Amendment if he chooses, but that in any event "the public can judge" the racketeer on the witness stand.

Corrupt Alliance

The committee is exploring charges that Dio and Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa formed a corrupt alliance that ultimately could subject more than a million New York workers to "crooked" labor contracts and "economic slavery," chaining them to less than decent wages.

That was the testimony yesterday of John McNiff, executive secretary of the Assn. of Catholic Trade Unionists, McNiff spoke of "collusion between crooked management and crooked unionism."

McClellan has told the committee Dio and his New York underworld henchmen have "fattened their pockets" by extorting from employers and dipping deeply into the funds of union members for whom they negotiated union contracts that allegedly provided few, if any, benefits.

Paroled For Hearings

McClellan says the evidence will show that Hoffa helped Dio to get charters for Teamster locals and that through this alleged alliance, Hoffa sought a "stranglehold" over New York and the Eastern Seaboard.

As the committee was listening to charges of labor exploitation, a New York judge ordered Dio and three other convicted labor racketeers paroled just long enough to testify in the hearings.

Paroles also went to Samuel Goldstein, president of Teamsters Local 239 and Max Chester, former financial secretary of Local 405 of the Retail Clerks Union. Both were convicted with Dio of a $30,000 shakedown conspiracy against two New York electroplating firms. The three are being held without bail pending sentence.

Dio also is under indictment in the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

The fourth man to be paroled is Alfred Reger, sentenced last Tuesday to serve 5 to 10 years in prison for extorting $1,750 from two lumber companies. Reger is secretary-treasurer of Teamster Local 522.
